DONATION FROM CHILDREN OF BAGDAD

Sunday School Class Gives Enter- tainment for Yellow Fever Sufferers.

The children of Bagdad, embued with the spirit of assisting the poor and needy of Pensacola recently gave an entertainment at that place, which netted the sum of $24.00. The entertainment was given by the Sunday school class of Mrs. S. J. Stewart, and yesterday Mayor Bliss received a check for the amount, which he turned over to Treasurer P. K. Yonge.

The letter is as follows:
Bagdad, Fla., Oct. 20, 1917.
Mayor Chas. H. Bliss, Pensacola, Fla.

Sir—Enclosed I beg to hand you $24.00 for the yellow fever sufferers of Pensacola. Check payable to relief fund. This money was raised by my Sunday school class at an entertainment given for the purpose.

We only wish this was a much larger amount and extend to you all our heartfelt sympathy and trust it will be cold enough in the next few days to stamp the fever entirely out.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. S. J. STEWART.

SAGE LEAVES

Special to The Journal.

Brent, Oct. 21.—Last Sunday was just rainy enough for Sabbath school children to stay at home.

The atmospheric elements seem to have no regard for any day; nor to respect any living creatures. The tall pine tree standing between our buildings was struck by lightning in a most shocking manner, breaking the Lord's day from top to bottom. We short-sighted Christians could see no necessity for so much rain, nor for the thundering operation of electrical apparatus to manufacture whole trees, instantaneously, into kindling splinters.

The tree stood 90 feet east from our dwelling house. Some of the inmates thought they were touched by the ponderable ball. The smell of ozone indicated that we were close enough to the scene of action for good health. It came like a death warrant as if to forewarn us of the approaching end from accident, yellow fever or other unknown fatal cause.

The President's southern migration will be doubly welcome on account of the cold anti-fever wave which accompanies him. If he reduces the October temperature to an unprecedented minimum over the yellow fevered sections of the south, it will be in accord with his phenomenal achievements in the past.

I have heard the expression that Mr. Roosevelt was too great a man for President of the United States—a fitful ruler of the world—without sword or crown.

He declined to cancel the date of his visit to New Orleans, and the fever has steadily abated for his welcome coming.

Although Pensacola ranks as the second healthiest city in the United States, it seems to be rather sickly for visitors at the present time. Under the new light of scientific attainment, it is being practically demonstrated by the health authorities at New Orleans and Havana, that yellow fever is at last coming under human control by "quarantine" of prevention through the destruction of mosquitoes.

Miss Stegmyr has been convicted of murder and sentenced to banishment from southern cities.

It is highly probable that we are having our farewell visitation of this dreadful disease, which has run amuck as it were in Pensacola, slaying our dear friends and valued citizens without regard to age, race, size or position.

When the quarantine is raised and the country people rush into town to meet the returning refugees from far and near, it will be an interesting event of our lives.

The markets which have assumed astonishing proportions on the out lines at the leading roadways will pull up stake and probably head for West Garden street, as a central morning market place, by common consent and mutual attraction.

When the ball is taken to rolling the city may take a co-operative hand in developing an attractive city market.

BLOOD POISON IN HIS LEFT HAND

Dr. Hargis Suffering From Poison Caused by Conducting An Autopsy.

The many friends of Dr. J. Whiting Hargis will be pained to learn that he is suffering from blood poison, which he contracted while conducting an autopsy upon the remains of William Barry during the first portion of last week.

The left hand and arm of the doctor is affected, and yesterday afternoon his fever was as high as 101, while he suffered a great deal of pain.

The autopsy over the remains of Barry had about been completed, and Dr. Hargis was bathing his hands, when he accidentally cut his hand upon a small piece of glass which was in the bowl. The cut was only slight and but little attention was paid to it.

Friday night, however, the hand and arm began to pain him, and yesterday blood poisoning had commenced.

Notwithstanding his suffering the doctor remained at work treating the yellow fever patients, and his friends are in hopes that he will recover within a short time.

COUNTERFEITING THE GENUINE

BIG MAIL ORDER DRUG BUSINESS

PENSACOLA CONCERN NOW DO-ING BUSINESS ALL OVER WEST FLORIDA AND SOUTH ALABAMA.

The prominence which Hooton's Pharmacy has attained in the drug trade, not only of Pensacola, but of contiguous territory as well, has been the wonder of the whole public. From a new business now only six months old, Mr. Hooton's enterprise is now as well known as any other institution in the city and far better known than most of them.

To-day a Journal representative yesterday Mr. Hooton stated that his mail order business—something which he had not contemplated in the first place—was really assuming large proportions, and it comes from all parts of West Florida and Southern Alabama.

There is but one explanation for this, and that lies in the publicity which Mr. Hooton's business has received through the columns of The Journal. He might have commenced business with the same stock, bright and new; the same location, centrally located and easily reached; the same force of quick-delivery messengers; but if he had not advised the public through the columns of the paper of what he was doing and could do, no one outside of those who pass his store would even have known that he was in business.

Hooton's Pharmacy is a credit to the city and a bright example of what energy and hustling, coupled with newspaper publicity, can accomplish.

Ready for Business.

W. R. Merlweather, who has been ill with yellow fever for the past two weeks, wishes his friends to know that he has now recovered and will be at his office tomorrow, 112 South Targoma street, ready for business.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of J. H. Cox, who died the 19th day of October, Pensacola, Fla.

Death is the lot of mortal man in this lower vale of tears; His time on earth is like a span Of days, of months and years.

Prepared or unprepared—he must At death's dread summons go From dust unto his parent dust— And cannot answer—No!

Responding to that stern decree, Our friend Jack Cox went From out this world of misery, Resigned and content.

Deeply we mourn the mishap And his untimely end; In gloom and anguish we are wrapt; He was indeed a friend.

We mourn him dead—departed worth! In life so true and kind. His affability and jovial mirth With us a room still find.

Sleep on, dear Jack, in hope to rise At the last trumpet's sound, To meet your Saviour in the skies Before the great white throne.

There, in the company of saints, We hope one day to meet, And join in stanzas of sweetest lays Before the mercy seat.
